GAS SHORTAGE IS RELIEVED

Troublesome Period at Monongahela Valley Towns Is Passed

INDUSTRIES AGAIN STARTED

Monongahela Companies Recuperating And Now Have Reserve Supply Ahead—Warmer Weather Accomplishes Wonderful Results.

Due to the abrupt change of weather conditions the gas shortage which caused suffering and fear in the Monongahela valley during the present week has been relieved and at all points now where the shortage was most felt, there has been a betterment. All mills which were forced to suspend because of a lack of gas have resumed, the flow having been turned in Thursday.

At Monongahela where the situation was critical, there has been a great improvement. By the warmth of Thursday, Friday and today wells have been permitted to recuperate, and there is now somewhat of a reserve supply of gas ahead for the use of the three supplying companies there.

All mills have resumed operations in full at Donora, the open hearth and various galvanizing departments having started up in full blast Friday.

In Charleroi the plant of the Macbeth-Evans company was started on Thursday in full blast, the Philadelphia company having been able to turn in to their mains a sufficient supply of gas. There is no noticeable lack of gas now among the private consumers who use the Greensboro Gas company's product.

Monessen mills were affected similarly to other mills in the valley, but there has been a complete resumption there.

NO MONOTONY PREVAILING IN THIS SORT OF WEATHER

What is Coming is a Question—Floods Possible if Present Rains Continue Very Long.

Anything but monotony prevails in this January weather. Today's kind of weather will continue until it gets tired and then it may cool down somewhat. That is it may cool down after it gets a trifle warmer, since warmth comes first on the program. Friday was so warm that spring fever was a common ailment and the mercury had to get a wiggle on to keep pace with the sudden change. From three degrees below zero on Monday to about 60 on Friday—five days—was too hasty for comfort.

Weather prophets do not venture much. Sunday will be colder, but beyond that there is little to be said. Floods have been raging in central states. The Monongahela river of late has shown a tendency to go on a spree on the least excuse and if the present style of weather continues a raise or a flood may not be out of question.

UNDERTAKERS HOLD MEETING

Officers Elected for Term At Regular Session at The County Seat

CHARLEROI PEOPLE ATTEND

Undertakers from Washington, Greene and Fayette counties, members of the Tri-County Funeral Directors association, gathered in Washington Friday for their annual meeting, holding two sessions in the public meeting room of the courthouse. It was decided to hold the next meeting in Finleyville about the second week in May.

Officers for the coming year were elected as follows:

President, C. W. Parkinson, Waynesburg; vice president, C. S. Patterson, Bentleyville; secretary, C. J. Yohe, Monongahela; treasurer, W. W. Weighmann of Avella.

The executive committee is composed of T. C. Bebout, Washington; W. H. McNary, Canonsburg and W. E. Shepler, Finleyville. More than 25 of the members were present, including some women.

Addresses were made to the funeral directors along the line of embalming by Mr. Dolan and Prof. Bates of Philadelphia. These addresses were very instructive.

Retiring officers of the association are: President, William H. McNary, Canonsburg; vice president, C. W. Parkinson, Waynesburg; treasurer, W. W. Weighmann, Avella and secretary, C. J. Yohe, Monongahela; executive committee, W. H. Parkhill, Dawson; H. H. Brownlee, Claysville and Frank Bebout, Monongahela.

About 25 members of the organization were in attendance beside a number of visitors. A number of questions of interest to the profession were discussed informally.

Those from Charleroi attending the sessions were M. T. Crowley and L. B. Frye.

GLYCERINE FAMINE CAUSES HARDSHIP

Manufacturers Using Product State it is Almost Impossible to Secure—Is Only One of Several

Products Affected

Manufacturers who use glycerine in the preparation of materials face a famine in that product which will impose the same kind of a hardship upon them and upon the buyers who are compelled to purchase from them. Moreover the use of glycerine may be entirely lost to the drug trade within the next few months unless the present pessimistic views are entirely wrong.

Glycerine is used in the manufacture among other things of printers' rollers, which means another advance in the printing trade. The preparation of printers' rollers requires the best kind of glycerine and a lot of manufacturers declare there is no satisfactory substitute.

Glycerine is only one product of several in which a famine is feared, due primarily to the war abroad. Its price is tremendously high.

BANQUET ENJOYED BY SPEERS MEN'S CLASS

John Wesley Men of Methodist Episcopal Denomination Have Booster Gathering—J. C. Mace Chief Speaker.

With approximately 30 men present the John Wesley Men's class of the Speers' Methodist Episcopal Sunday school held a banquet at Speers Friday evening that was in the nature of a "booster affair." C. K. Chalfant, president of the class with a few remarks introduced James T. Heffran teacher as toastmaster.

The chief address was made by J. C. Mace, secretary of the Central Y. M. C. A. at Pittsburgh, his subject being "I'm from Missouri, you've got to show me." Rev. William Hogg, pastor of the Speers church and others spoke.

The meal was served by the Ladies Aid society.

MRS VICTORY CARNES DIES AT GIBSONTON

Well Known Woman Succumbs to Stroke of Paralysis—Family Surviving Number Five.

Following an illness of eight months which resulted from a stroke of paralysis, Mrs. Victory Carnes died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Robert Hixenbaugh of Gibsonton at noon Thursday. The stroke which resulted in the death of Mrs. Carnes was the third she had suffered. Mrs. Carnes was a daughter of Mrs. Nancy Eberhardt a former well known resident of Greensboro. She was united in marriage about the year 1857 with James W. Carnes who died about 25 years ago. She was a member of the Baptist church, having united with that congregation while but a young girl. The following children survive: Mrs. Charles Nixon of Toledo, O.; Mrs. M. A. Jones of Quincy, Cal.; Mrs. J. W. Phillips of Bentleyville; Mrs. Robert Hixenbaugh and Clell Carnes of Gibsonton.

After Palmer's Scalp.
Former Congressman A. Mitchell Palmer is having his own troubles these days. Democratic county leaders are lining up against him and appear to be determined to "get" him. The plan of campaign is to defeat Palmer for membership in the Democratic National Committee and obtain control of the State Committee and the State's delegation to the National Convention.

BRIDGES IN FAYETTE COUNTY NUMBER 150

Up to County to Take Care of Them—All And to Keep Them in Good Condition—Record of Roads Shows 16 Were Improved in 1915.

Fayette county has exactly 150 bridges built and maintained by the county according to a bridge record just compiled by E. C. McCollough in the county engineer's office. These valuable connecting links in the more important avenues of travel through the county are to be found in every township and almost every borough in the county, performing the important function of giving to travelers and commerce the facilities of journey.

The bridge record is the first to be compiled by the county and is highly regarded by the county officials for its statistical value. A road book giving a detailed description of the improved roads of the county is a fitting matter to the bridge document. The record or roads shows that 16 highways have been improved by the county during the past three years.

WILSON-GEKKIE WEDDING TAKES PLACE AT CHURCH

At the study of the First Christian church Friday evening the wedding of Miss Belle Brown Gekkie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cooper Gekkie of Washington avenue and John Edgar Wilson son of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Wilson of Fallowfield avenue took place. Rev. E. N. Duty pastor of the church and officiating clergyman used the ring ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. George Kline were the witnesses and attendants. Mrs. Kline being a sister of the groom. After the ceremony the couple left on a brief honeymoon trip. They will go to housekeeping here upon their return. The groom is employed at the local freight station of the Monongahela Division, P. R. R., and the bride has been an efficient operator of the Belle Telephone system.

TRAFFIC BLOCKED ON RICES LANDING BRANCH

Landslide Causes Delay of Morning Train Service—Danger Avoided by Quick Discovery of Trouble.

For about four hours this morning the southbound track on the Rices Landing branch was blocked this morning by a large rock and a landslide. Traffic on both tracks was held up for a time. The morning train due in Charleroi at 7:22 was delayed an hour and 30 minutes.

No damage of any consequence was done by the slide or the rock and there was no wreck. However had the rock and slide not been noticed in time and reported the loss of life and property might have occurred.

The slide was similar to slides which occurred there last year and was due to the recent bad weather.

COUNTY FACES SEWAGE TROUBLE

Court Order Gives 90 Days for Abatement of County Home Nuisance

HEALTH DEPARTMENT INSISTS

Washington county must within the next 90 days abate the nuisance of running the sewage from the County and Children's homes into the water of Chartiers creek. In an opinion handed down by the court, written by Judge J. A. McIlvaine, the court finds that these two homes in discharging sewage into Chartiers creek being waters of the state, are maintaining a nuisance which should be abated. In the second place the court finds that the department of health of the state is entitled to an order of court restraining and enjoining the defendant county from further maintaining this nuisance. The court, however, gives the county 90 days within which to abate nuisance. The costs of the suit are put on the county.

The action was started some months ago by the commonwealth ex rel. Samuel G. Dixon, commissioner of health. The county really had no defense, and made practically no fight against the action. Following the filing of the suit, the county however by its representative, met representatives of the borough of Washington and reached an agreement whereby the sewage from these two institutions will be taken care of at the sewage disposal plant of the borough at Arden. It is only a short distance from the two homes.

Under this agreement the county will pay the borough a specified sum per annum for disposing of the sewage, the amount being estimated on the number of inmates. The county must convey the sewage to the plant at Arden. This will mean the putting in of a sewer system from the homes to the disposal plant. The sewage can probably be carried by gravity from the Children's home but from the County home it will have to be pumped up to the disposal plant. To comply with the court's order the county will have to get busy early in the spring.

MINERS ASKING 10 CENT RAISE

Wage Scale to Call for Increase On Each Ton of Coal Mined

SCALE COMMITTEE WORKING

International Convention at Indianapolis Grows Interesting—Trouble Not Looked For When Conference Comes Up With Operators.

Ten cents a ton increase in the wage scale will be asked from the bituminous mine operators by the United Mine Workers, now in convention at Indianapolis. There are resolutions before the scale committee of which President Van Bittner of the Pittsburgh district is the head, calling for increases all the way from five to 25 cents, but it is not expected that the committee will recommend a higher increase than 10 cents.

Two years ago the miners demanded an increase of five cents a ton and a 10-cent increase for day labor. The mine run basis of payment checkoff and a uniform day and wage scale for all classes of day laborers are among other things that are expected to be in the report of the scale committee. There is also a likelihood, according to some of the leaders that a two-year agreement will be demanded.

Delegates say they do not look for serious trouble in making a new wage scale and expect there will be no suspensions in regions where negotiations are still under way after contracts expire on March 1st.

Announcement that the West Virginia miners had declared peace among themselves was made late Friday and the convention will take some action on the report soon. The dual organization that has existed there will be abandoned. The West Virginia insurgent force numbered 30,000 and seceded from the union because of a dispute over the conditions in that state.

The convention occupied the entire day Friday in considering reports from the committees on grievances and appeals.

KEEPING THE WINDOW OPEN.

Director Krusen, of the Philadelphia Health Department, has just issued the first of his "Health Bulletins," and while they do not contain anything that we did not know before in the way of hints, it is well, says the Washington Reporter, to have our attention called to these various suggestions. The point of the enclosed room, especially where a gas stove without a flue is kept burning, was demonstrated in Washington county this week.

The Quaker City health officer makes an appeal for co-operation for better social and hygienic conditions and the general advancement of the public health and sanitation by the public. He promises a campaign of publicity that would not be bad for any city or town.

Here are the resolutions he would have the people adopt for the new year:

- "To breathe fresh air all times.
- "To observe regular habits.
- "To avoid excesses of all kinds, with special emphasis of alcohol and tobacco.
- "To eat moderately of simple and wholesome food.
- "To sleep eight hours each day—early to bed and early to rise.
- "To bathe frequently, as cleanliness is essential to good health.
- "To exercise at regular intervals.
- "To live outdoors as much as possible.
- "To avoid places and persons with communicable diseases.
- "To remember that our health is our wealth and it should, therefore, be held in good keeping."

NEWSPAPERS PLEASE!

In regard to the method in which newspapers of a part of western Pennsylvania handled the story of the organization of the Thompson creditors' committee, the Uniontown Herald, owned and published by one of the committee has the following to say:

For the manner in which the newspapers of surrounding towns have co-operated in working out the local situation they are entitled to the thanks of every one interested. Many of them gave the report of the appointment of the Permanent committee a better display and a more prominent position than any local news item, no matter how important. Among those already reaching this office with adequate treatment of the movement are the Connellsville Courier, Connellsville News, Morgantown New Dominion, Fairmont Times, Clarksburg Exponent-American, Johnstown Democrat, Greensburg Review, Washington Observer, Charleoi Mail and others. These papers treated the news as it deserved, both as to the prominence accorded it and the sympathetic interest displayed in the headlines.

THROWING AWAY MATCHES

New York has a new anti-fire law, which has just gone into effect and is being enforced by the regular police and the health and tenement house authorities. It relates to the one little form of human carelessness that is responsible for the majority of fires.

"No person," reads the law, "shall throw away any lighted match, cigar or cigarette within any building or structure, or in any boat, car or other vehicle for the common carriage of passengers, unless it be to deposit same in a suitable container of metal or other noncombustible material provided for the reception thereof."

Strict enforcement of this law is, of course, impossible, remarks the Punxsutawney Spirit. Most of the forbidden acts are committed in private houses or other buildings out of sight of the police. Still such power as can be given to the law by the arrest of those breaking it openly is sure to have good results. The publicity attending even one arrest for carelessness with a lighted match will make thousands of other men stop the practice.

The national forestry service has been checking the fire evil by urging smokers simply to break a match in two before throwing it away. That insures that the match won't be tossed into a dangerous place while it's still blazing. But it's just as well to reinforce all such advice by legal prohibition.

People can be made careful about matches and lighted cigars, just as they have been made careful about spitting. They used to say that the spitting and could never be stopped by law, but someone or other somewhere of the public spitting in this country has been stopped within a few years by legislation and a public nuisance.

That there will be no suspension of mine operations due to scale contention this spring is the prediction of miners' officials. It is to be hoped their prophecy holds true. Neither miners nor operators can well afford a suspension at this particular time. Practically all mines in the bituminous regions are in operation, with every promise of continuing so for months to come unless some such untoward circumstance as a general strike forces them to close. Orders are ahead and there is a demand. With the miners this is the first steady work they have had for some time, so a suspension would be about as disastrous to one side as to the other.

To secure even an ordinarily good attendance at the average Business Men's Association or Board of Trade meeting or for that matter any sort of meeting, unusual features have to be introduced in the way of a banquet or something else equally attractive. American people have a great penchant for banquets. But in the way of Board of Trade activities a banquet should be as unnecessary as snow in summer, and it is where the membership acquire in all its breath and fullness the new and wholesome vision of mutual helpfulness.

Wise selections were made of the men to make up the liquidation committee for the J. V. Thompson financial interests. Of special importance was it that men well acquainted with affairs of finance, of coal and land values and of recognized ability as well as an understanding of the situation should be chosen. The committee is well balanced. Probably a better could not be chosen. The consent of the famous New York attorney and financier, Samuel Untermyer, to direct and finance the proceedings places one of the best men in America in charge. From this moment the work of liquidation should go forward satisfactorily to the large body of creditors who eagerly await results.

ELECTRIC SPARKS

After one severe attack of spring fever the prevailing opinion is that May weather is a bad thing in January.

It appears that most of those reports about the Mexican bandits' execution are more of a hope than a reality.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

In a rural district of Kansas two laborers wandering in the county highway discussed various people and settled affairs of nations as they walked and talked. Finally one of them referred to the secretary of war and the other said:

"Hiram was the secretary of war?"

"I don't remember his name," said H. "I know a Hiram and Bill Morgan. We'll ask him."

So the two men drove up one of the nearest farms.

"Hey, Hiram, tell us who is the secretary of war?"

"Well," said Bill, "I oughter know, but I can't remember." And he drove on, thinking deeply.

Soon the two men saw Bill coming back and when he came within hailing distance he called out: "Say, you fellows, what war are you mean?"

I think the following should rank very high in the matter of murdering the King's English, especially in view of the fact that it is based upon an actual occurrence within your immediate circulation. Millvale, Pa., writes a friend of the Chronicle Telegraph. Longfellow's "Psalm of Life" is the victim on this occasion. Note the comparison:

Lives of great men all remind us
We can make our lives sublime
And departing leave behind us

The teacher in order to test the memory of the pupils had them repeat the verse together with others in the same poem and here we have the final result:

"Certainly, my little man. But why do you want it?" queried the dentist, as he handed it over.
"Well, sir," responded the gratified boy, "I'm going to take it home, and I'm going to stuff it full of sugar and then—with a triumphant and ghoulish savagery—"I'm going to watch it ache."—Roseleaf.

CHARLEROI B.B. TEAM MAKES DONORA HIGH LOOK LIKE 30 CENTS

Awful Draughting Administered to Steel Men's Boys From Down River Town—Second String Men Given a Chance at Them.

Donora didn't even prove a circumstance to the Charleoi high school basketball team on the local floor Friday evening and were wiped off the earth by the score of 70 to 11. The regular squad was started in the game but they were "2 mutch" as Artemus Ward used to say, so substitutions were made and the second string men given a trial. They ran all around Donora.

Donora was played off her feet in the first half. The score at the end of the half was 46 to 6. Fiedler was the chief point getter in the first half caging eight field goals and two fouls.

In the second half the second stringmen were run in and provided praiseworthy substitutes, holding Donora to only five points, which were all made on fouls. Much credit goes to the local boys who outplayed Donora in shooting, guarding and in all other ways. They took the lead at the start and led Donora all the way through. The fray was featured by many startling plays from beginning to end.

A large crowd attended and there was much enthusiasm shown. Cheer Leader Hickey and his crowd of veteran high school rooters made the gymnasium ring with cheers.

Tonight Charleoi high plays a hard game with the fast Latrobe high school squad, which last week defeated Charleoi high at Latrobe. Charleoi's best lineup is promised.

The preliminary to Friday's contest was played by the Donora high school Freshmen and the Charleoi Boy Scouts. The Scouts won by the score of 19 to 9. Lineup:

HEAVY PRODUCTION OF PLATE GLASS IN UNITED STATES NOW

The production of plate glass in the United States today is higher than at any time in the history of the industry.

Conservative estimates by men prominently identified with the manufacture place the monthly production at 6,000,000 square feet at least.

If ever there was a boom, it is on now in plate glass. In the face of a demand which is of huge dimensions and shows no sign of diminishing at present, manufacturers have again withdrawn price, and higher prices may be introduced.

The entire output of many factories has already been sold until early spring.

While naturally delighted at the turn affairs have taken, leading manufacturers are not deluding themselves with the belief that this boom is to last indefinitely. They rightly attribute it entirely to the war and expect conditions to readjust themselves after peace has been declared and industrial conditions in Europe regain their normal plane.

Then may be expected a return of the heavy imports of Belgian glass which before the war was such an important factor in market conditions in this country, and then it is predicted the profitable and growing export trade which has recently been acquired will come practically to an end.

This export trade is contributing no little to the present good times as before the war Belgian plate glass imports averaged between 2,000,000 and 3,000,000 feet, which has been entirely eliminated from the market. This added to the amount being exported will make a difference of in the neighborhood of 16,000,000 to 18,000,000 feet.

Plate glass conditions a year ago were vastly different and offer a striking contrast to those prevailing now.

At that time plate glass could hardly be sold at any price in this country or abroad. Considerable quantities of the Belgian glass were still available and large stocks of American plate glass were on hand. Warehouses were crammed to capacity and many factories were forced to close due to the fact that there was absolutely no room in which to store the product. A curtailment took place during the first half of last year and many plants stood idle. Market quotations for plate glass ruled below cost and were the lowest in the history of the industry.

For the first three days of next week you will see the best known stars in the film world at the Coyle Theatre. Monday, Theda Bara in "Destruction"; Tuesday, Marguerite Clark in "The Prince and the Pauper"; Wednesday, Marguerite Snow in "Rosemary."

HEARS OF THE DEATH OF AUNT AT, CARMICHAELS

P. J. Ailes of Meadow avenue today learned of the death of his aunt, Mrs. Lucy Ailes, widow of the late William J. Ailes of Carmichaels. The deceased was a life long resident of Greene county. Mr. and Mrs. Ailes were members of the Presbyterian church at Carmichaels and it was due somewhat to his untiring efforts that the new structure was erected. Both were widely known. The funeral will be held from the late home.

A WOMAN'S BACK

The Advice of This Charleroi Woman Is of Certain Value.

Many a woman's back has many aches and pains. Oftentimes 'tis the kidneys' fault. That's why Doan's Kidney Pills are so effective.

Many Charleroi women know this. Read what one has to say about it:

Mrs. Fred Jackson, 207 Prospect avenue, Charleroi, says: "About five years ago, I was troubled by a constant backache. If I did a little extra work, the pain in my back was intense. I didn't rest well at night and got up in the morning lame and stiff. If I stooped, sharp pains caught me and I could hardly straighten up. I also had rheumatic pains in my back and arms. I couldn't do my sweeping. Dizzy spells and hot flashes bothered me terribly. As Doan's Kidney Pills had been used in the family, I got a box at Piper Bros.' Drug Store and began taking them. One box practically cured me."

Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Jackson had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

He performed this wonderful feat by devising plans for a revenue that would not only pay current expenses but diminish the public debt. It's not so much a question of revenue with the young man of today—it's a question of economy—and it's up to the fellow who would create a working capital that will provide an adequate foundation for business credit, to have a plan for systematic saving of all his earnings in excess of actual cost of living. FOUGHT HIS OWN BATTLES

Such Progress as Man Has Made He Has Laboriously Carved Out for Himself.

It has become a bromidian commonplace to say that man can do everything he has to, supply each need he feels and meet every emergency that arises with some expedient or Yankee trick. And there is some warrant for such boastfulness, for everything that man enjoys or employs he has made for himself out of such raw material as he found to hand. All that he knows he has learned for himself. No one ever gave him any information of the slightest value which contributed to his material welfare or the comfort of his life. The lower animals furnished him certain hints. Some of them burrowed to escape the cold, climbed trees to elude their enemies, lined their abodes with moss and floss for warmth and laid up food against the season of snow. But all that man is and has he made himself. All that he does he found the way of doing. He was an orphan child, ignorant of every branch of useful knowledge, set adrift in a trying environment to perish or provide for himself as best he could. If anybody deserves an iron cross or other honorary decoration, it is man—resolute, resourceful, self-reliant homo sapiens—for he is self-made and has done a very creditable job of it, considering that he had to battle with his environment for everything worth while.

Art and the War.
If every work of art existing in the western world were obliterated, and every artist killed, would human nature return to the animalism from which art has in a measure raised it? Not so. Art makes good in the human soul all the positions that it conquers.

When the world is over, the world will find that the thing which has changed least is art. Certain withered leaves, warts, dead branches will have sloughed off from the tree; the sap will run at first a little faster for the temporary check, and that is all. The wind of war reeking with death will neither have warped nor poisoned it. The utility of art, which in these days of blood and agony is mocked at, will be raised again into the view even of the mockers, almost before the thunder of the last shell has died away. "Beauty is useful," says Monsieur Rodin. Aye! it is useful.—John Galsworthy, in Atlantic.
